Refugee Communities Association of Australia Statement on Bondi Beach Terrorism Attack

The Refugee Communities Association of Australia (RCAA) expresses its deepest condolences following the tragic terrorism attack at Bondi Beach. We stand in solidarity with all those affected, and we mourn alongside the families and communities who have lost loved ones.

We extend our heartfelt condolences to the Jewish community, who have been directly impacted by this senseless act of violence. To those who are grieving, we share in your sorrow. To those who are injured and recovering in hospital, we wish you strength, healing, and comfort in the days ahead.

This attack is a painful reminder of the importance of unity and resilience in the face of hatred. Refugee communities across Australia know too well the devastation caused by violence and division. We reaffirm our commitment to building bridges of understanding and compassion across all communities.

“Social cohesion is the foundation of a safe and inclusive Australia. In moments of tragedy, we must come together, not as separate groups, but as one people united in dignity, justice, and peace. At this difficult time, we stand in solidarity with our Jewish community members.” said RCAA Chair, Mr Parsu Sharma Luitai.

The Refugee Communities Association of Australia calls on all Australians to reject division and reaffirm our shared values of compassion, belonging, and solidarity. Together, we can ensure that acts of terror do not fracture our communities but instead strengthen our resolve to stand as one.
